I wondered how the July edition was going to find much news but it hasn't been a problem!

Firstly great to have held our 75th Anniversary (in conjunction with AGM) and play "catch up" with the recognition of long serving members with their 25 and 50 year continuous membership badges.

Thanks to the team who went back through past records, members who advised of their own or other's long tenure, and most of all the recipients, who also fronted up in force on the night. A good business becomes a great one with loyal customers – your consistent and persistent support is both very much appreciated and heartening.

This plays into the theme of volunteers and how our and so many other organisations throughout New Zealand depend on volunteer support ($'s, labour and skills). GAC wrote a nice piece in this regard and is reproduced below with a few pictures from past editions of the Echo added as a reminder of some of our own work. Amongst these are HUNTS, range officers, the organised activities and general running of our branch. Of course all branches are doing much the same across the land as well as national initiatives). Also we must commend the local work supplying meat to Kai Rescue (itself a not for profit, distributing food to volunteer groups). Further, in the Wairoa Bike Park our members have over the last several years now logged approximately 1000+ hours removing 238 goats, 57 pigs, 244 possums and 29 deer (plus laid out anti-wasp Vespex). That's epic!

The DOC office at St Arnaud have provided a summary of the April fly-in animal control programme. We are very keen to hear feedback from any who went (and for anyone who did not with reasons) so we can discuss with DOC continuing to make this work better in the future. So, if you have information, please contact me.

The Fiordland Wapiti Foundation held their first major event in Te Anau at the beginning of July. If you haven't already, see the great Country Calendar episode on their work to maintain and enhance the wapiti herd while delivering on good conservation outcomes for the habitat overall.

National NZDA decided to take a stand there and show the NZDA flag. It was a fair job to organise long distance, but we had good experience from Sika Shows and also willing and helpful support from locals who are members of Southland and Southern Lakes branches (special thanks to Shaun, David and Sharon!) who made it all possible. I drove from Nelson and collected national President from Darfield and picked up Vice President and our Douglas score man at Queenstown airport. So, despite the cold and fear of major snow the event went well, we engaged with many people some members, many not and were able to promote NZDA, discuss matters of interest and network with other participants. Our conclusion at the end was "bloody long drive...but well worth it!"

NZ Game Animal Council Media Statement

21 June 2023

Volunteers are the heart of the hunting sector

The Game Animal Council is celebrating National Volunteer Week by giving a big shout out to the hundreds of volunteers that dedicate their time and effort to making a contribution to New Zealand's hunting sector.

"Volunteers are absolutely essential to the success of organisations that make up New Zealand's hunting community," says Game Animal Council General Manager Tim Gale. "Whether it be managing and administering our clubs and foundations, undertaking game animal management and conservation projects, or running programmes that provide wild game meat for communities; none of it could be achieved without the hard work of volunteer hunters."

"As hunters we are lucky to have so many passionate people who care deeply about hunting and conservation in New Zealand. It is also these volunteers that allow hunting sector organisations to make big contributions to conservation and community support programmes."

In the 2021-22-year members of the Sika Foundation contributed 7,278 volunteer hours to game animal management, wildlife conservation, the provision of wild venison for local foodbanks, and hut and track maintenance.

The Fiordland Wapiti Foundation relies on over 50 volunteer hunters from the small Southland community to help run their management and conservation programmes, as well as administer the annual wapiti bugle ballot process.

New Zealand Deerstalkers Association (NZDA) members contribute to a range of voluntary projects. In hunter training alone, 63 volunteer instructors each give over 200 hours a year to educate new and inexperienced hunters. This sits alongside the unpaid efforts of 521 volunteer range officers who help administer NZDA's extensive network of rifle ranges and make a significant contribution to teaching firearm safety.

Around 20 volunteers are involved in running projects and targeted harvest programmes on behalf of the New Zealand Tahr Foundation.

"In addition to the work of our clubs and foundations, a great many unaffiliated hunters are also involved in helping to fill the freezers of those struggling to make ends meet," says Gale. "This has become really important for families impacted by this year's adverse weather events and has helped get a number of isolated communities through some extremely tough times."

“So, this week, we celebrate all the hunters who volunteer their time and effort for our communities, because it is these people that are the beating heart of New Zealand’s hunting sector.”

The NZ Game Animal Council is a statutory organisation working to improve the sustainable management of game animals and hunting for recreation, communities, commerce and conservation.

Summer Series Final Results! We have a Winner!

Carina Jackson – Summer Series Champ!

We lost our last event of our Summer Outdoor series due to the forest being closed.

Here are the final results for the season - Well done to Carina. Her consistent wins made sure the rest of us were left in the dust.

Our final get together before a break is Matariki Weekend, (14 - 16 July) with a similar programme to last year - a mix of Indoor and Outdoor.

Look forward to catching up with everyone Graeme Smith

DOC Report – Nelson Lakes National Park Roar Hunt

Nelson Lakes ungulate control

For the second year running Nelson Lakes National Park opened the southern part of the park for helicopter access to hunt during the roar, for the purpose of ungulate management. As with previous opportunities there were 8 geographically block and they were open from the 27th of March until the 11th of April (in three periods of 6 days each).

- Of the 24 spaces available only 8 were filled this time around.
- A total of 91 deer and 17 chamois were seen.
- 29 deer were shot (18 males and 11 females) and 5 chamois were shot (1 male and 4 female).
  - o The average animals seen per group is 18 and average animals shot per groups was 4.
- The first week (27 March to 1 April) had quite bad weather, with snow and gale force winds – but this group still managed to shoot 10 deer.
- We have a sighting of 2 yellow crowned kakariki from block 5 (Bob's hut block) which is really great news!
- The feedback I received was generally positive with most groups saying they had a good time and want to sign up for the next round.
- It would be good to get more specific feedback about whether the 6 days is a good amount of time (or do people want 4 days again)? If the times of year suits i.e, the springtime blocks and the roar blocks? Any other feedback is also appreciated.

Thanks to all the hunters that have taken part in this program! So glad to hear that people are enjoying getting out in Nelson Lakes.

Fiordland Wapiti Foundation – Wapiti Weekend

Cold opening day in Te Anau

Great line up of historic heads, the first permitted trophy was taken exactly 100 years ago.

Our NZDA stand taking shape with Craig (President) and Callum (Vice-President) looking pleased.

Guess the Douglas Score – 54 entries and 3 were within 3/8 to 4/8s of the correct score! Thanks, David Veitch for the fine trophy (which he secured himself).

Sharon Salmons (Southern Lakes Secretary) Shaun McKelvie (Southland President) and Roy Sloan, head of the Fiordland Wapiti Foundation (and without who's leadership in recent times neither the current status wapiti herd not the weekend event would have been possible) - of course Roy has had a great team in support!

Cold but satisfied - Board members and Brian from Auckland branch suffering in their tees (4° C) for group shot. Many local supporters from Southland and Southern Lakes branches made the job possible, worthwhile and memorable!
