Editorial

The usual question of “what’s some news this month?” is definitely not a problem for this edition! Deciding what order of priority to place all the great stories has been the main headache!

However, precedence is taken by our Annual General Meeting, which is a critical part of our calendar in terms of remaining a legal and effective entity on your behalf, and reaffirming our mandate with you, our members.

Especially note that we are seeking a new Secretary as Aaron takes a well earned break and also we will combine the AGM with our awards ceremony for competitions and a good social time to boot (free pizza!). Noting that, a shout out for McCashin’s for their support of AHT and Photocomp, providing a great venue and two $50 vouchers for photo and trophy sections! See the results of a great Club night with AHT below.

The initiative to take on the operational management of the Nelson Lakes Animal Control Project has led to a small group of dedicated guys (Trevor and Russel from Marlborough branch) and David Haynes from our own Committee doing the significant donkey work to launch and an effective and focused hunt in the back of NLNP. All home safe, with plenty of deer and tales to tell. More below and I am expecting David to write a full feature for the July Echo. Expect this event to occur again next year! I certainly now wish I had gone this time!

May saw us return to Molesworth for a meat hunt, which turned into a trophy hunt. Molesworth – full of cultural and historic heritage, landscapes, habitats and opportunities. This is a “gem in the crown” for backcountry recreational activities in the South Island with hunting a key attribute; but many other leisure activities occur there too. And its big....I mean really big - 1,800 square kilometers, 440,000 acres, i.e. slightly larger than Rakiura/Stewart Island! Molesworth is a Recreation Reserve..... and so, what is a Recreation Reserve? Here is the opening statement in the Reserves Act (of course it’s more complicated than that in detail but.....) with my emphasis:

17 Recreation reserves

(1) It is hereby declared that the appropriate provisions of this Act shall have effect, in relation to reserves classified as recreation reserves, for the purpose of providing areas for the recreation and sporting activities and the physical welfare and enjoyment of the public, and for the protection of the natural environment and beauty of the countryside, with emphasis on the retention of open spaces and on outdoor recreational activities, including recreational tracks in the countryside.

Over the past few years, lead-up information gathering surveys and hui have been held to inform the Molesworth Management Plan drafting. The now looming draft Plan will be the key opportunity to have our say and codify the future of the area. We will need to be there “with bells on” at submission time to ensure the principles and intent of clause 17 are upheld for all!

Finally, spent useful and interesting time in Wellington recently with Gwyn and our President, Craig meeting both Minister McClay and Outdoor Access Commission team. We were well received, and the door is open to improving access in those areas where it has been marginalised over time. More to come on this important topic.

Good Hunting & Safe Shooting - Richard Wells

AGM, Prizegiving and Social Night – Wednesday June 26th - doors open at 7pm.

Agenda:

AGM - 7.30 – 8 pm

Prizegiving for AHT and Photo competition 8 - 8.30 pm

Social – ongoing with some food provided.

Our wonderful club needs a new Secretary as Aaron takes some time to be more available for his increased family. This role is pretty simple nowadays as we have good systems and templates to manage the documents etc involved in administering our branch and meetings. This does mean candidates need to have reasonable laptop and computer skills. They also need to be available for our committee meetings which are held on first Tuesday of every month (except Jan and April) 7-9pm. Anyone wishing to help will be well supported by the Committee. If you can help or want to know more about what is involved please contact the Secretary Nelson NZDA

Nelson Lakes Management Hunt – by David Haynes

Breaking News

In collaboration with Marlborough Branch, I organised the inaugural NZDA led Management Hunt in the Nelson Lakes National Park. If this trial proves successful in the eyes of DOC and those who participated, more management hunts are a strong possibility.

Previously run by DOC, these Management Hunts ran out of steam in 2023, despite the excellent efforts of Senior Ranger Melissa Griffin, so when the opportunity arose for us to manage the operation on behalf of DOC and to their requirements, it seemed an opportunity too good to miss (and hindsight says it was!!) as so thought the thirty eight NZDA members from across five branches who initially applied to participate.

Gearing up for flights

Thirty-three hunters were eventually confirmed and organised into nine teams, mostly teams of four, and allocated one of fourteen blocks created by Russell Silcock, cartographer and geographer (aka “mapper”) from Marlborough branch.

Organising the hunt took up a lot of my time over the months of March to May. Feedback is still being gathered but early indicators are that hunters had a great experience and have already registered their interest in participating in future such hunts, should the opportunity arrived.

Landscapes to “die for” and to hunt in

David and the Block 4 team with just some of the meat boned, chilled(!) and ready to fly out to a good home.

Quite a few deer were shot, my team, under the leadership of Trev Dibben (Marlborough Branch president), managed to drop eighteen animals and recover over one hundred kilos of meat, all destined for food banks in Nelson and a soup kitchen in Blenheim, other than some eye fillets and back straps kept for friends and family.

A huge thank you to Rob Hunter at Murchison Heli Tours; Murchison Heli Tours Website his flying and operational skills made the fly in and out as easy as pie. Hunters were lucky to enjoy the 10% discount Rob offers to all NZDA paid up members.

As Telly Savalas once sang, 'A picture paints a thousand words' and so here are a few photos of the management hunt:

More Molesworth Magic - by Richard Wells

I have now hunted Molesworth several times and become more spellbound by the landscapes and hunting there as time goes on. The last three missions there it has snowed lightly (February March and May!) and this adds spice and adventure.

This trip into a block new to us was aimed at getting some meat (hence the May application) but as usual we went in with an open mind. Our recce into the block Friday afternoon was almost immediately disrupted by a light helicopter puttering around the valley, we guessed looking for cattle perhaps missed in a recent muster. Anyway, they didn't find any and as it turned out neither it disrupted our hunt.

Holed up and glassing the first major catchment that looked most "likely" on maps and Google Earth we were surprised to see a stag loitering down a bare scree on the opposite side of the gully. About face! And we watched and waited for an hour to see what his plans were (hoping he would progress downhill and save us a long uphill stalk). Nope.

Glassing is much more fun when from a nice spot and with an animal to watch and talk about.

Stag posing above a rocky outcrop on what we think was maybe his roar spot.

He potted into a patch of low scrub which as usual turned out to be about 6 foot high cos he virtually disappeared. Then a hind and yearling popped out right there and goofed around. Family situation. This added complexity to our stalk planning.....and the stag settled in for his afternoon nap. Now or never was the mood, so while Dino agreed to act as mission control, Ros lead off as shooter and I took a hillstick to point and wave with, as well as a 75 litre pack and muslin for meat. The wind seemed settled, down-valley, and a good gutter of dead ground gave us a great option to climb into shooting range. First fail was we left UHF radios in ute so agreed complex semaphore system based on waving an orange cap in case things developed out of our sight. Later the second fail was to discover these radios in bottom of my pack – DUH!.....but that was later.

Upon crossing the stream, we immediately find the wind is now up-valley and uphill....in fact we were worried we might be scented from the gully floor. We rapidly changed plan and gear (to wonderment of mission control) and headed up another gutter topside of the scrub patch. An hour later and based on some obvious flax landmarks it was time to crest the ridge and look at where we had last seen the stag. Now this is where control freak Dads have to man up and stay out of the way. Nerve wracking. I sat down and tried to calmly glass the other way up-valley while Ros crept the last few hundred metres to a viewpoint. C'mon, she's a good hunter, patient, and good shot! If it goes pear shaped at least it won't be my fault and Ros can make her own decisions without consultation! We knew that if he stayed asleep it could be a prolonged wait for him to stand up and present himself for a shot. Five minutes later – Boom! That's the 7mm-08 having a say. Then silence..... I run up and Ros is calmly ensuring rifle is clear. "He's down." Just like that.

It transpired that on cresting the ridge, the wind changed, and the stag stood up and jogged out, pausing to look back for confirmation of bad things looming, presenting a good side-on shot. Fatal. Where the hind and fawn went, we never knew, Dino never saw them go either. Anyway, a lovely 11 pointer for Ros, her best trophy yet and...as she put it "hunted properly!". Sure was.

Molesworth is awesome. The following day's adventures in the next Echo.

“He’s down over there” says Ros, meaning about 150 metres away in scrub. Didn’t need my stick...

Happy hunter heading home! Dino is on the clear face mid left of the picture across the stream (but without a radio!.....).

You won't be needing that now, mate! We always carry muslin and a big pack in open country.

A somewhat ignoble (but tasty) end to a noble beast - thanks James at Meat Solutions!

Last Club Night was – Competition Night!

Chingy doesn't believe a word of it! AHT at McCashins was a great chance to relive a few hunting moments!

A big thank you to Warren and Eric for measuring, Greg Monahan for photographic judging/taking photos and Aaron for organising and record keeping!

Awesome venue! Thanks McCashins and for the three gift voucher prizes!

Who Gives a Rats? & Trapping Hui

The weasel wants the mouse and the mouse wanted the maize...and so it goes. Learned at the trapping hui that mice are a fave of weasels so their presence in your trapbox is great to increase kills.

Another “still life” set taken by Greg at our Packer’s Creek Range recently as an example of his and Carina’s unrelenting campaign of terror on pest animals there.

We had a cool stand at the Predator Free NZ Trapping Hui in Richmond. This attracted attention, and also keynote speaker Cam Speedy, renowned sika hunter & researcher, game animal biologist, trapping expert and conservationist (and that's the shortlist of his skill set!). Jake from Fish and Game was there too.

Way of the Future? Smart traps: solar powered, satellite connected and AI driven to not spring on kea etc, only mustelids, cats or possums. The AI development is so a far more targeted approach can be undertaken (ie the opposite of 1080 toxin) in special areas e.g. whio/blue duck rivers. Southern Lakes branch are testing these in Greenstone Caples area.

Cam made it pretty clear that despite innovative developments underway the tried and true DOC 150s and 200s, well deployed, maintained and set are the current best practice and option.

A shout-out for NZDA members attending! Steve Holloway of MAD Conservation, Will Rickerby (last month's hero in Echo!) Shawn Lawson (who gave me the above rabbits for stoat bait for my traps), Carina who attended on Saturday when I ran out of steam and anyone else who was there and I didn't catch up with! Of course, Cam Speedy is lead scientist in our Sika Tracking Project up north.

Fish and Game News

NELSON MARLBOROUGH FISH & GAME REPORT

SALMON SPAWNING COUNT COMPLETED: A foot survey of two upper Wairau salmon spawning creeks has been completed with a low count of fish observed. The low count is in line with angler feedback from the season with relatively few fish caught, and what fish were caught were reasonably small and in average condition. It certainly did not help that the Wairau River was low and warm for a long period, and is still in need of a fresh to get fish moving (for spawning) at the time of writing. We will head up the Rainbow for a second count, and also look to fix the fence which prevents stock entering the upper part of the Rainbow side stream, where salmon mostly spawn.

ORGANISED GAME BIRD HUNTS: Staff are busy organising hunting opportunities for licence-holders. We have three Rabbit Island/Moturoa upland game (quail and pheasant) hunts coming up, as well as facilitated quail hunting within OneFortyOne forestry. We also have a Molesworth upland game bird hunt coming up in mid-June which to our knowledge is the first of its kind.

TOP OF THE SOUTH TRAPPING HUI: Staff attended a two-day trapping workshop which was facilitated by Predator Free NZ and the Tasman Environment Trust. Day 1 involved talks from a range of great speakers, including trapping guru Cam Speedy, who has a mission to turn people from 'trap checkers' to trapping 'ninjas', essentially trying to get the best out of the trap, making sure it is as appealing to pests and in good working order to improve catch rates. Day 2 was focused on practical workshops such as trap maintenance/calibration, backyard trapping, monitoring, and the likes. An excellent event providing inspiration and knowledge to everyone involved in trapping projects. It was also great to see representation from NZDA there.
